

Fill in the Blanks

Follow the instructions to complete the activity.

NAME

DATE

Use the information found in Respiratory System to help you complete the following activity.

1. Cystic fibrosis is an disease.
2. The contains a pair of mucous membranes called the vocal cords.
3. Masses of tissue called are located on the sides of the pharynx.
4. To clean inhaled air, the nasal cavity is lined with a thin layer of tissue called a and with tiny hair-like structures called cilia.
5. A small flap of tissue called the covers the larynx when a person swallows.
6. The heart and lungs are connected through a part of the circulatory system called the .
7. Air that is inhaled reaches the in the lungs.
8. The two that enter the lungs are similar in structure to the trachea.

