

Number the events below in the order they would appear on the timeline. Write the number in the box beside each event. Check your answers with pages 29 of the book.

Many important events occur during the Archaic Period, including the development of the Greek alphabet.

The Peloponnesian War breaks out between Sparta and Athens. The war ends with the defeat of Athens.

King Philip II of Macedonia defeats the Greeks in the Battle of Chaeronea.

The Persian Wars, a series of battles between the Greeks and the Persian Empire, begin.

The first known Olympic Games are held in Olympia.

Mycenaean civilization collapses, and the Greek Dark Ages begin. The population of Greece decreases significantly during this time.

During the Mycenaean Period, the mainland of Greece sees an era of prosperity.

The number of settlements begins to rise again, and Greece starts its transition to the Archaic Period.

