

Number the events below in the order they should appear on the timeline. Write the number in the box beside each event. Check your answers with page 17 of the book.

John Joseph Merlin builds the first roller skates.

Scott Olson founds the company now known as Rollerblade, Inc., which begins manufacturing inline skates.

Inline skating is included in the World Speed Championships for the first time, with inline skates replacing traditional roller skates.

Inline skating and roller skating become increasingly popular on social media, with thousands of people posting videos of tricks and flips on TikTok, Instagram, and other platforms.

The first World Inline Figure Skating Championships take place in Wuppertal, Germany.

Roller speed skating makes its debut at the Summer Youth Olympic Games, held in Buenos Aires.

