

Number the events below in the order they should appear on the timeline. Write the number in the box beside each event. Check your answers using page 27 of the book.

The Astros set record attendance levels for their home games. The team also finishes the season with a franchise-best 102 wins.

After more than 10 disappointing years, Houston wins their division. Then, in one of the biggest games in the team's history, the Astros clinch a World Series win with a 5–1 victory in Game 7 against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Houston Colt .45s play their first MLB season.

The Astros earn their fourth division title in five years. However, during the post-season, they are defeated by the Atlanta Braves in the opening round.

In a tiebreaker game, Houston defeats the Los Angeles Dodgers and wins the National League West Division, advancing to the playoffs for the first time in franchise history.

